MARYMOUNT COLLEGE
BOCA RATON, FLORIDA

IN GRATEFUL

DEDICATION . . .

Outward friendliness, deep understanding, and an inimitable sense of humor are only three of a long list of very real and human qualities that go to make up the man who is Doctor William Wixted.

Few realize the true greatness of this man as he passes, for humility is the core of his being. Dr. Wixted's persistent loyalty to Marymount has helped to bring about many significant changes in the quality of education here. His presence in the administration reflects his deep concern for the school and his unremitting confidence in the future of Marymount.

And yet aside from any likable characteristics, the true mark of a teacher is the respect of his students. Not only has Dr. Wixted earned this respect, but the knowledge he has imparted to his students has enabled them to face their own life's challenges.

Indeed, of very few men can it be said that "he is a very real human being." But for Dr. Wixted the phrase is a way of life ... For his years at Marymount reflect a lifetime of selfless giving, sincerity and goodness beyond measure.

So to those dedicated years - to times of change and progress - to this man whose ideals and ambitions for Marymount set a high standard for us to follow; and to this man whose interest in each of us is mirrored in our own warm feeling for him, we, the students, dedicate ...

FINE ARTS

MR. FLYNN

SR. REGINA

The art courses at Marymount are designed to offer the student an introduction to the principles and elements involved in creative design with emphasis on appreciation.

The music department attracts students in fields other than music by offering courses of both classical and contemporary styles incorporating listening and discussion periods.

SR. MADELEINE

MISS CHURCHILL

SOCIAL SCIENCE

MR. MOONEY

The goal of the social science division is to acquaint the student with important precedents in all fields of human activity and to encourage her to correlate these precedents with her own intellectual pursuits.

MR. MANIKAS

MISS KELLY

MRS. RATHBUN

MR. ROONEY

The seeds of yesterday implanted the questions in our minds today. Today we find answers through exploring, progressing, and succeeding in the revolving world of science.

MATH AND SCIENCE

You sophomores
know Marymount for what it is now -
Some of you have been here two years,
some have been here less.
You have been accepted, rejected,
picked up, put down, put on.
You've been made fools of
and you've made fools of yourselves ...

Some of you will leave thanking God that you finally can;
and some will realize that they are not ready -
Some will leave
thinking Marymount offered them nothing,
and there will be others
who believe there is nothing finer.

There is no turning back now;
you will either rise in glory or wallow in your inadequacy.
The world waits for you with bared claws -
Take it on in all its brutality
- it needs you ...

A black and white photograph of a tropical scene. In the foreground, the fronds of a palm tree are silhouetted against a bright sky. In the lower center, a small airplane is visible in flight. To the right, another palm tree is partially visible. The text is centered in the middle of the image.

It is hard to understand how scared we were
those first few weeks.
But still we came,
determination overriding fear.
We brought with us our parents' hopes,
our hometown friends' admiration,
and our own desires.

We try to find our place (whatever that means, wherever that may happen to be)
and we try to make something from the nothingness that surrounds us.

We can sit back now
with the first year behind us.
We laugh at how childish we were.
But if we look closely we see how immature we still are and how very, very much there is left undone.

STUDENT

ORGANIZATIONS

We have sometimes wondered, not only this year, but in many past semesters, "Why doesn't SGA do anything?" At least a partial answer lies in the expression from a current movie: "What we have here is a failure to communicate." SGA serves its purpose; it is an outlet for expression, it is a sounding board of ideas.

We tend to think of our elected officers as, somehow, perfected individuals who are, in all respects, dedicated to the entire student body. It is true, they are there to serve - but they are servants to a spirit, a fleeting shadow of student interest; they serve a student body which continually serves itself. SGA is not "them," SGA is "us." If we can be strong and loyal and responsible to each other, as well as to ourselves, SGA can be strong, we will be stronger, and this school will grow, not merely exist.

We take
or we are taken,
we give
or we are given,
we drive
or we are driven.

And the million dollar question
is:

Who takes
and who is taken,
who gives
and who is given,
who drives
and who is driven -
And how?

DOIN' THE

MARYMOUNT THING

Marymount demands only what we demand of ourselves.
With orientation
we get a rough idea
of the expectations
of college living.
But
it is the flexibility
of our own demands
and expectations
that is the key,
not only to college living,
but to the entire
social order.

More is done here
 than come and go.
 We leave things,
 we take things;
 meet people,
 leave memories.
 Pay money,
 take knowledge.
 We lose
 and are lost.
 Find
 and are found.
 Win, lose and draw -
 All at the same time.

Marymount must be more than a twenty-five hundred dollar
per year world.
What would we pay
for the friends we meet,
for the things we see,
for the times we have?.

We are but brief shadows
in the Marymount sun,
mere clouds
in an academic atmosphere.
Luckily,
we may be remembered
for a time
for we may have shed
some life-giving rain.
We may have helped Marymount grow a little and to realize itself
a little.
